Closed Caption Assignment

Watching a TV show without sound and only captions was challenging, even for a short time. I watched a 30-minute show, and it was a little difficult to follow along at first, but after a little bit I got used to it. It was different not being able to hear what the people sound like, and it was also different to read while try and watch the actor's movements. Without the sound, you are not able to get up and work. You have to sit and watch the episode or not watch it at all. You also were not able to hear if something fell, you would just read that something fell. I was not a big fan of watching the episode without sound, it took me a little bit to get use to and then when I kind of got used to it I ended up reading the words instead of watching the episode.
