The Lightning Thief

This is a fictional book that is set in New York City. The main characters are Percy Jackson, Anna Beth, and Grover. The book is about demigods fighting monsters.

Percy Jackson was a regular kid going to school with his friend, Grover. He had a mother and a stepdad. His father supposedly died in a shipwreck. He hopped from school to school getting expelled or doing something wrong. Finally he got to a good school, except his teacher turned into a monster and tried to kill him. His mother sent him to a camp, but while she was driving him there she was captured by a monster and was taken to the underworld. At this camp, during a game of capture the flag, his Father (Poseidon, the sea god) claimed him as his son. He discovered that every person at this camp was a child of the gods.

Percy was sent on a mission with his 2 friends to find an entrance to the underworld and stop the war between the gods. On this mission they had many obstacles to overcome, like monsters trying to kill them. They stumbled across a lady named Aunty Em who brought them to her restaurant and fed them delicious food. She was actually a monster and tried to kill them. They killed her and kept moving toward the underworld. Percy finally reached the underworld, the palace of hades, and tried to barter for his mother. They saved his mother, and stopped the gods from fighting.

This is an awesome book and I highly recommend reading it because there is a lot of adventure, backstabbing, and war.
