

Chapter 7

1. In this version of Arthur's story, he did not pull the sword out of the stone. the round table is also not there
2. He's been a good king so far but they are still just getting destroyed in terms of battle. Also he is trying to regain control him
3. I think the drive between Mark submitting is because he wants to prove himself to the others at nice.
4. The fog is setting the scene for the shady things that were happening at NICE and mark is going into the dark while jane is getting out of it

Chapter 8

1. Arthur's reign was more peaceful than past kings reigns.
2. Because he had conquered one of the greatest kingdoms. Aswell as rome getting threatened because of there sudden rise in power
3. Im not sure why he would make those two characters up i don't see what it would do for him so it might be a miss translation or some thing along those lines.
4. She thinks he looks alot younger and handsome
5. The change jane goes through is that she is more likely to join st annes.

Chapter 9

1. According to monmouth arthur is a great king who is very mighty and he is also very fierce.
2. I don't see many similarities between them. Vortigern is evil while Mark is just desperate to be in.
3. NICE wanted mark because he is a good tool to use for there purpose because they see that he wants to get in but they can get him to do anything for them to get in. also they want to get jane
4. Mark feels revolted around him because he keeps changing his personality. but he likes that he knows him.
5. The people at bellbury do not like the natural world unlike how st Annes likes nature and wants to keep it alive.
6. NICE wants to destroy all natural life and subsequently destroy humanity as well. They want to be equal to god.
