

HOMEWORK: You are to choose and research a particular scholarship and present it to the class. Do this in such a way that your classmates are able to understand how to apply for it if they so wish.

THIS FRIDAY: Pick two or three potential scholarships and bring them to class

Your presentation should contain:

- 1) official name of the scholarship
- 2) how to apply for the scholarship, including all contact information
- 3) qualifications for the scholarship
- 4) rules and restrictions of the scholarship
- 5) application deadline of the scholarship
- 6) monetary amount of the scholarship
- 7) any other pertinent information (why you chose this scholarship, how you found out about it, how many people have gotten it before, etc.)

Normal presentation rules apply: poise, voice, life, eye contact, gestures, and speed/timing. Clarity is important here to keep from confusing your audience. A handout for your classmates would also be nice!

You should have no trouble finding scholarship lists online, but here are a few lists to help you out (Big Caveat Here: I have not previewed these lists, so know that!)
