

I think this may well tell the story of why Sam went from the Gulf of St. Lawrence to the edge of the Grand Banks within a month. The SST declined in Sam's original area from about 14° C on the week ending Oct. 7, 2017 to about 0° C the week ending Nov. 8, 2017. As blue whales in the North Atlantic region swim south during the winter and sometimes end at the equator. Sam
