Describe your school. Tell about the people, the classroom, and other locations.

He studied at the Theological University of the Caribbean in Puerto Rico. Located in the town of Trujillo Alto. It has a spacious courtyard and classrooms with air conditioning, computers, blackboards and capacity for 30 students. Its teachers are people trained in theology and in regular subjects. It has a library called Juan L. Lugo with books for all subjects and a variety of computers and printers available to students. It has beautiful gardens and a gazebo for recreation. In our university in the middle of the Garden, there is a palm that nests several beautiful savings called macaws. They are blue and yellow. I love my university and its people. God bless you!
